Welcome fellow model builders, to the castle of the God forsaking warlord DRACULA the IMPALER. Outside these walls we are safe, but somewhere inside walks the man who will someday stalk the night as a Vampire, the Prince of Darkness. The time has come to confront him at his origin. Draw your sword and your trusty paint brush and face HORIZON MODELS, DRACULA in ARMOR.

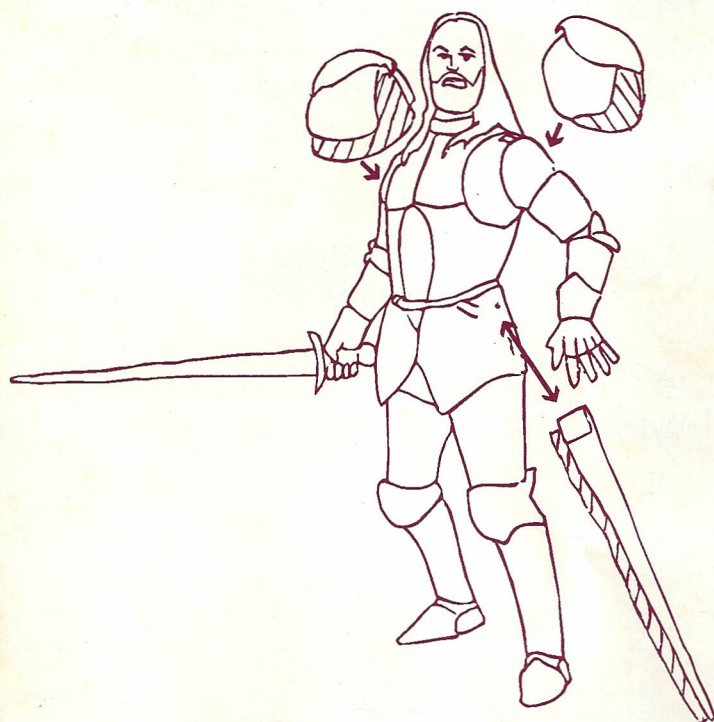

The first step in preparing your poly-vinyl model for assembly is to trim away the excess portions of each piece. To do this, warm each part with a hairdryer or hot water, this will soften the poly-vinyl and make it very easy to cut. When it is soft, use a sharp HOBBY KNIFE to carefully cut

ASSEMBLY INSTRUCTIONS:

The first step is to lay out all the parts and make sure everything has been included.

along the indented seam line of each part, removing the unneeded area. In the case of parts # 11,12, and 13 a small hook portion of polyvinyl should be left near the place where it will attach to to model (See instruction diagram). You will know if you have trimmed enough , if the parts fit snugly together. If they don't, carefully continue trimming until they do.

To put your kit together you will need to use a CYANOACRYLATE ADHESIVE. Put a few small drops on each piece and firmly press together. Refer to the step by step diagram for help with assembly. If you wish to use both head versions included in your model do not glue either of them in place. Do not attach the arm sections #7-10 or the shoulder pads #11-12, instead use a one inch long piece of metal rod about one eighth of an inch round to make a pin that will hold these parts in place. Cut a one eighth inch hole in both arm sections and the torso areas where the arms attach,being careful that they line up when the parts are placed together. Glue the rod/pins into the arms about half way, this should allow you to attach the arms to either upper body section by inserting the pinned arms into the holes on the shoulder areas of parts #1 or 2. The shoulder pads can then be placed over the shoulder areas and will be held in place by the hook on each shoulder pad.

When you have assembled the parts of the model you wish glued together, you may notice some gaps between the assembled pieces. These can be filled by applying a MODELING PUTTY to the seam and carefully sanding it when it has dried. When all the seams are no longer visible, you are ready to begin painting.

PAINTING INSTRUCTIONS:

To paint DRACULA,the IMPALER you will need the following paints.

- | | |
|------------------|-------------------|
| *BLACK | *DEEP RED |
| *RED | *PALE WHITE FLESH |
| *DARK ROSE FLESH | *WHITE FLESH |
| *WHITE | *IVORY |
| *PINK/BURGUNDY | *DK. BROWN |
| *SILVER | *GOLD |

Before you begin painting your Dracula model you will need to do a little preparation. A successful paint job depends on a well researched or planned paint scheme. Movie magazines are great source material or you can use the model on the box cover as a reference.

Begin by giving your model a light coat of spray primer. This will serve as a better base for your paints.

To paint the head, begin with a base coat of WHITE FLESH and follow with a dry brushing of PALE WHITE FLESH. Then mix a DARK ROSE FLESH wash and carefully deepen the shadows on the face. The areas around the nose, the mouth, the hollows of the eyes are all good places to use the wash. With the same wash, mix in a small amount of WHITE FLESH and carefully tint the lips. When that has dried use PALE WHITE FLESH and WHITE to highlight the bridge of the nose, the forehead, and the cheeks.

Paint the eyes PINK/BURGUNDY. When this is dry, paint the inside of the eye IVORY, leaving a ring of PINK/BURGUNDY around the outside edge of the eye. Tint the eye slightly with a RED wash. To finish paint a small BLACK dot in the center of the eye.

The hair should be base-coated with DK. BROWN. Then adding IVORY to the DK. BROWN, dry-brush the hair, adding IVORY as you go to softly lighten the hair.

Base coat the armor with DEEP RED and then dry-brush the whole suit with RED. Before proceeding the armor should be given a coat of SEMI-GLOSS. Add a small amount of IVORY to the RED and dry-brush the clothing areas of the armor (gloves, shoulder areas, and the groin). The belt should be painted DK. BROWN and dry-brushed using DK. BROWN and IVORY. The buckle should be base-coated BLACK and the painted with SILVER. The sword scabbard should be painted BLACK and the top Painted SILVER. The sword should be based in BLACK and the blade painted SILVER. The handle of the sword and knob on the handle should be based in BLACK then painted GOLD. Use DK. BROWN to paint the rest of the handle.

To display your model, place him on a stained wooden base or create a battlefield diorama for him to dominate.

Well fellow model builders we have faced DRACULA, the IMPALER and lived to tell the tale of his origins. Some fear now that he is a vampire he will live forever. They also say he will be able to change his form at will, becoming both a BAT and a WOLF creature. Perhaps on some dark night in the future you may hear a far of howling or the flapping of wings announcing the coming of HORIZON MODELS DRACULA in BAT FORM and WOLF FORM. Bye for Now!

The Vinyl Kit

Welcome fellow model builders, to the dark of night. This is the environment that DRACULA calls his home. Out here it is rumored that he can change his shape at will. By the sound of flapping wings approaching, it appears as if he has taken BAT FORM. Grasp your crucifix tightly as we confront the new HORIZON MODELS, BAT FORM DRACULA.

The first step in preparing your poly-vinyl model for assembly is to trim away the excess portions of each piece. To do this warm each part with a hair dryer or hot water, this will soften the polyvinyl and make it very easy to cut. When it is soft, use a sharp HOBBY KNIFE to carefully cut along the indented seam line of each part, removing the unneeded area. You will know if you have trimmed enough, if the parts fit snugly together. If they don't, carefully continue trimming until they do.

To put your kit together you will need to use a CYANOACRYLATE ADHESIVE. Put a few small drops on each piece and firmly press together. The leg pieces of the BAT FORM model are very similar in appearance, because of this keep careful track of the number of each part to avoid an assembly mistake. When you have glued the model together, you may notice some gaps between the assembled pieces. These can be filled by applying a MODELING PUTTY to the seam and carefully sanding it when it has dried. When all the seams are no longer visible, you are ready to begin painting.

PAINTING INSTRUCTIONS:

To paint your BAT VERSION kit you will need the following paints.

GREY/GREEN	LT. GREY/GREEN
BLUE/GREEN	BLACK
DK. BROWN	IVORY
PINK/BURGUNDY	AMBER BROWN
RED

Before beginning you should give your model a light dusting with a spray primer. This will help protect your paint job, and serve as a good base coat for your paints.

Base coat the flesh areas of the creature with GRAY/GREEN. When this has dried dry-brush the flesh areas with LT. GREY/GREEN. If you have an airbrush try taking BLACK and DK. GREY/GREEN and air-brushing a vein pattern over the whole kit. If not use the same colors and make a wash, then carefully line in the same pattern. When everything has dried, take the BLUE/GREEN and thin it down a small amount. Then brush this mixture over the whole kit and immediately wipe it away with a sponge or paper towel. This will leave the heavy color in all the nooks and crannies of the skin while leaving the rest of the flesh untinted. Before moving on, dust the flesh areas with a GLOSS spray.

Carefully paint the fur areas in using BLACK. Be very carefully to make the point where the fur meets the flesh irregular. Using a fine point brush carefully stroke in each hair separately to get a more realistic effect. When this is finished dry-brush the fur areas with DK. BROWN, then add IVORY and dry-brush again with the new lighter tone.

Paint the toenails and finger claws with BLACK. Paint the eyes and the inside of the mouth with PINK/BURGUNDY. Using IVORY, carefully paint in the teeth and the inside of the eyes leaving a ring of PINK/BURGUNDY around the outside edge of the eye. Use a RED wash to tint the inside of the eye, when this has dried place a small BL in the center of the eye. Make a wa. AMBER BROWN and carefully tint leaving the dark color at the base finish the model apply GLOSS to mouth and eyes.

To display your model, place it on a stained wood base or create a diorama for your creature to inhabit.

Well fellow model builders we have escaped DRACULA in his BAT FORM, but this night is far from over. To truly put a stop to DRACULA, we must confront him at his origin. So put on your armor and strap on your broad sword as we ride out to face DRACULA, the IMPALER (ARMOR VERSION).
